—The Young Men's Quadrille Club will give a social dancing party at the Rifles armory on Thursday evening of this week. All persons holding invitations to the former parties given by this club are cordially invited to attend.

—Floyd Murdoch has purchased of the Murdoch estate property, another house and two lots on Wall street, costing the same amount. If Floyd keeps on he will soon be the Astor of the Lower City.

—The afternoon Judge Bennett is hearing arguments in the case of Perkins against the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company. It is a suit for insurance money. The money was withheld on the charge that Perkins himself was responsible for the fire in the building which the policy in question covered.

—Every seat in the lecture room of Court Street church was filled last evening, and the staiding room was nearly as occupied as well. The programme was one of unusual excellence, and ended with a very attractive four-act comedy, in which the part of the star was taken by S. O. Barnham.

—In the December Century, the author of the "Life of Lincoln" will fully describe Mr. Lincoln's passage from Springfield to Washington, and tell for the first time all the reasons for his secret night journey to the capital. In the same number they will print the full text of the first inaugural with all of Sevier's suggestions, whether adopted or not by the president. A part of the message will be given in fac-simile.

—Mr. Thomas Richardson met with quite a serious and painful accident yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, E. and Mrs. Hamilton Richardson, second ward. The young man was riding a horse in the yard surrounding the house, his body coming in contact with a clothes line. He was thrown to the ground with sufficient force to break his collar bone. Dr. J. B. Whiting, Jr., was called and attended to the injuries.

—The funeral of the late John Skelly, who died at the home of his mother in the town of Rock on Monday, was held from the house at two o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. W. F. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating, concluding the services. Deceased was a young man, in his twenty-first year, and was respected by a very large circle of friends. He leaves a widowed mother and three sisters to mourn the death of a kind and affectionate son and brother.

—"Why is it that none of your men are allowed to smoke in the ditch?" was the question fired at a water-work contractor this morning. "Why," he responded to the contractor, "don't you know that the difference between your men and their not smoking represents to us about ten dollars a day? No? Well then, does Of course the time that pipe would be of very little importance, but multiply that time by the number of men in the gang and it equals the day's work of at least six good men. Not such a trivial matter after all, you see."

—The Jan. Minstrels appeared at the opera house last evening, the balcony and gallery being well filled with spectators, while in the parquette a great majority of the chairs were vacant. There was very little to be commended in the performance, and very little, if any, of the "Original Georgia Minstrels" in the present troupe. No doubt those in the gallery received their money's worth, but most everyone outside the gallery agreed that the show was pretty thin. Many were annoyed last evening at the continual cracking of the steam heating pipes, the steam being let out to the pipes with cold air in nearly all the cases, and having sufficient time to heat up before the performers could appear. Messrs. Meyer could easily avoid this by turning on the steam a little in advance of the hour of the evening performance.

THE HACKLEMAN CASE.

A Verdict Returned for the Defendant at Twelve O'clock To-day.

Some of the More Important Points in the Testimony of the Case.

The case of Geo. L. Hackleman against Charles W. Hodson has at last reached a termination, in so far, at least, as the circuit court for Rock county is concerned. The arguments of Mr. Smith, Mr. Jeffries and Mr. Doe were finished last evening. The judge finished his charge shortly after nine o'clock this morning and the jury retired to consider their verdict. About twelve o'clock the jury returned a verdict in Hodson's favor. After the examination of Mr. Hackleman it appeared that he had no case, and bystanders remarked that if the case had gone to the jury at that time the result would have been in Hodson's favor and members of the jury have since verified the prediction. Mr. Hodson's attorneys were not satisfied with the case until they had shown, not only that the plaintiff had no case, but wished to show to the jury and to the public the positive injury that had been inflicted upon Hodson for years, and which had been upheld for a great degree by people that were interested in defeating Hodson. They not only first demonstrated that Mr. Hodson had probable cause to arrest Hackleman at the time he did so—that is that any one would have had him arrested. But at this trial they were sought to demonstrate that Hackleman was in fact guilty of receiving this money knowing it to have been stolen. To this end they called upon W. H. Butler and Herman Lightfoot, the men who sold the flour to Hackleman. These men stated that Hackleman had not only known that the flour was stolen, but that he had never told the truth about the number of sacks he received. And to support their statements they testified to certain conversations in which Hackleman admitted that he had sworn falsely about it. These conversations were in the presence of third parties and one of them in the presence of Mr. Hackleman's own attorney, at a time he desired to have Beaver testify on Hackleman's behalf. None of these third parties were called, nor did Hackleman's attorney take the stand to deny it, and even Mr. Hackleman was not called upon to dispute this. This gave it very much the appearance that Beaver and Lightfoot were telling the truth about this matter. It was developed upon the examination of Beaver that he and Lightfoot were told about in part, made a statement to the district attorney in regard to the flour that had been stolen from Hodson for years. It is said that a combination of Hodson's men had been robbing him for years, and rumor has it that some prominent people have been using and selling Hodson's flour at less than the market value. It is rumored that some men have been paid money to keep still, and are a little anxious about developments. There has been considerable sympathy for Hackleman in the community for Hackleman, and no doubt a large amount has been contributed by men who have been held up physically by snuffboxes from some of Hodson's flour. It is whispered that several parties will be called upon to explain where certain family provisions had been secured. It is understood that Beaver and Lightfoot confess that this thing has been going on for years—and of course they could not use all they could steal—and it had to be disposed of to outsiders.

Our morning contemporary said after the last trial of this case that public sympathy was rather with Mr. Hackleman. While no doubt that statement was felt by the Hackleman family of that case, which is a large owner of stock in the company that publishes that sheet, we believe that they will hardly claim much sympathy for Hackleman now, when the facts have come to light, and it appears how Hodson has been plundered of tons of flour.

PERSONAL.

—Walter R. Scott, Palmer & Stevens' right hand man, has returned from his Chicago visit.

—Mrs. F. H. Judd will leave for Philadelphia to-morrow. She will spend the winter as the guest of a son in that city.

—Assemblyman Charles Hall, of Oconto has been making a short visit in this city. Before coming here he had an interview of considerable length with Governor Rank and predicts that the legislature will assemble this winter in special session.

—J. S. C. Carr, of Milton, is attending the meeting of the National Grange at Lansing, Mich. We see by the proceedings of the Grange published in the Lansing papers, that Mr. Carr is taking a leading part in the meeting, and has been appointed chairman of the committee on "redeemability." Mrs. I. B. Carr is a member of the committee on resolutions.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

At high school, Janessville, Saturday, December 3rd, 1887. All teachers in the county and all interested in the improvement of the common schools are invited to be present. Papers, essays and discussions will make up the programme.

A FACT TO BE REMEMBERED.

Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask your druggist for Allcock's Porous Plasters and let no explanation substitute. Allcock's Plasters are a purely vegetable preparation, the formula of which is known only to the manufacturers. Their valuable curative qualities are due to the employment of the highest medical and chemical skill. They are sold, promptly and efficiently. Over 1,000,000 persons have been cured by Allcock's Porous Plasters.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 25 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 36 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 36 and 40 degrees above zero.

JANESSVILLE, WIS., NOV. 21, 1887.

WINCONSINO TOBACCO.

Part of the Pat Acm Maid to Have been Cured.

"Those two or three weeks of dry weather lately" said a tobacco man, "saved Rock county farmers from considerable loss. Much of the late cut tobacco, of course, had been copped by frost and was showing unmistakable signs of fat-tem. The dry weather saved a large part of this last fairly presentable again. Much of it will command good prices."

Sales during the past week have hardly been up to the average. Among the lots sold are eleven acres in the bundle at 11 1/2 and 2 cents; four acres in the bundle at 11 cents; four acres in the bundle at 10 1/2 cents; four acres at 10 cents; three and a half acres at 10 1/2 cents; and one and a half acres at 11 cents; four acres at 10 cents. In the last transactions in '87, last have not yet begun. Dealers are at work cleaning up the remnants of the crop of '85 and '86.

The New York market has taken on a rather improved appearance. During the week past two thousand cases found sales. Quotations on Wisconsin are by seen by our special New York report, varied from 7 to 11 cents.

A CARD.

MR. EDITOR: It has come to my knowledge that certain parties are circulating stories that I have said that and that man was implicated in the stealing of flour from me. I wish you to state that I have accused no one and have not said that any one is implicated in this matter. I am going to let the courts and public officers air this thing and in the mean time no rumors shall start with me.

O. W. DORRIS.

HAPPINESS.

The foundation of all happiness is health. A man with an imperfect digestion may be a millionaire, may be the husband of an angel and the father of a host of children, and yet be miserable if he be troubled with dyspepsia, or any of the disorders arising from imperfect digestion or a sluggish liver. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the surest and surest remedy for these morbid conditions. Beware of cheap imitations. They are perfectly harmless.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE.

A Fall of 20 to 25 Degrees To North Predicted—The Intensity.

A dispatch from the Washington weather bureau, sent out at 1 a. m. to-day says: "A cold wave will spread over Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin on Tuesday night. The temperature will fall 20 to 25 degrees by Wednesday morning."

Coal stores aren't such bad things to have after all.

"There was an old man of Tobago lived on a piece of land he had bought."

After he had a bottle of Salvation Oil he could not rest but plan pudding all night.

They say the winter advertisements of houses will run somewhat in this style: A large and elegant furnished house for rent, in easy distance of a druggist for sell, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

THE WAYSIDE INN.

Its Record for the Past Year and What is Expected of the Year to Come.

A statement of the Establishment's Needs—An Open Letter From the W. C. T. U.

Whatever interest the welfare of a city should be of interest to its individual citizens; and as the work which the W. C. T. U. tries to do is for the benefit of the whole, we again bring our affairs before the public.

For nearly a year we have made our headquarters at the Wayside Inn, which has become familiar to many of our people. Here has been planned and superintended our work and here our young ladies, the "Y's" have established their "Woman's Exchange" which has gained for itself a preponderance of business. Here, too, have been held our military drill, short talks on popular subjects given by gentlemen and ladies who have used their talents for the good of the cause, to games and other forms of innocent amusement. The girls, too, have been instructed and entertained, conversational classes have been held, topics of interest being discussed, and instruction in embroidery and general fancy work has been added. Gospel meetings have been held quite frequently with happy results. We have tried to make it a pleasant diversion home for those who would make use of it. To make it bright and attractive we have been our aim. We have not reached our ideal but we have worked hard and willingly. As usual the weight of the burden has fallen on a few. That which would be light and pleasant to many hearts and hands working with united purpose becomes a burden grievous to be borne when carried by a few. What inducements can we offer to more helpers except the great need of the work which must be apparent to the most casual observer. We have some steadfast friends whose sympathy and aid have been of untold value to us and without which we should have been obliged to abandon our little enterprise. They have been patient and hopeful even when we were leaving and wondering about our work which we have felt might have to be dropped. We have been led to hope and expect that the generous hearts of Janessville will respond to further calls for assistance both personally and financially. While we have accomplished all that we could, we shall try a new plan with the hope of better success. But we know that the outlay of money must be greater than for the last year because the reason season will be longer. With coal at its present high price and the imperative need of good light, the expense will be heavy. Our rent in the excellent location though made comparatively light through the generosity of our landlords, is necessarily a heavy item. It takes a good many nickels to make up the sum total. We have received many gifts and kindnesses from business men and others. Faithful newspapers have been sent. Pastors and allies. Strangers frequently commend our work and not infrequently a little aid to the price of a meal for the sake of helping. We are grateful for all these tokens of appreciation and desire to return thanks to one and all and ask a continuation of favor which we strive to deserve. Our winter's campaign is not entirely planned. We shall continue as heretofore to work on a gospel plan without regard to politics. This has always been our settled purpose as a society. We shall hope to continue to draw in the boys, making our Inn a safe and pleasant place for them at all times. The young women, too, are always welcome. We shall go on with the gospel meetings and the distribution of literature, and try to meet our opportunities for usefulness as they meet us. What can we do more? The city is about us with all the pitfalls that can be devised by the unscrupulous; can we make too many or too strong efforts to save too young people from being ensnared? Are they not worth everything to the value of our little inn in saving from temptation. Who shall estimate the value of one soul saved from temptation? Such testimony gives us courage to go on.

We keep a list of wants at the Inn. We invite attention to it. Just now we have a stove for, our little parlor where we hold our society meetings, and where the girls are invited to use the organ, and make themselves comfortable and happy. The stove had last year been loaned by a family who have removed from town. Who will furnish one this year?

Our special needs then are for money for our rent, our fuel and our gas, probably now two hundred and fifty to three hundred dollars. Further than this we need your sympathy, your prayers, and your very best help, your work.

—The next Congressional social will be held at the residence of J. P. Thomas in LaPrairie on Friday evening of next week, December 23d.

Congressmen Arriving at Washington to Prepare for the Opening of the Session.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Several members of Congress have already arrived in the city and are preparing for the active work of next session. The appointment of the tariff and a postal bill are the questions most generally discussed.

It is understood that the Republicans intend to push bills for the admission of Dakota and Washington Territories through the Senate at once, on the assumption that Congress will adjourn before the House can pass them during the session, thus gaining a Republican electoral victory in the Presidential fight.
